Casual but smart: A polo shirt from Feraud with cream highlights at the shoulders and collar.

A throwback to the classics

Parisian menswear caters to the urban professional

FERAUD, a label out of Paris, recently launched a new collection themed "Timeless Classics".

This collection is created to offer wardrobe staples to professionals who want to be stylish and impressive.

To cater to these confident and serious but charming professionals, Feraud finds inspiration in the timeless and classic styles typical of the Parisian fashion, where the label was created.

The Feraud fashion house was founded by Louis Feraud in the 1950s.

The colour palette of this collection is dominated by shades of white, grey, blue and black accentuated by romantic purple and bold red, while contrast in materials such as crisp cotton and premium cotton with silky finishing to keep things fresh and classy.

The formal end of the collection is a contemporary reinvention of the classics.

White shirt with detailing on the collar and placket with refreshed slim cut trousers are for professionals who want to look smart and polished at work and official functions.

The white mandarin-collar shirt in blue and white stripes make it a staple wear-to-work piece.

Sharp and minimalist designs are brought to life with inventive detailing such as blazers with details on the lapels and the use of stripes, combined with different shades.

For the smart casual segment, this season's collection highlights long-sleeved shirt with irregular stripes in crisp cotton for a suave look without being serious.

Daring men can opt for long-sleeved shirt in striking red checks paired with slim cut pants for social meetings and weekend parties.

This collection that harks back to the core values of Feraud features playful detailing, exquisite cuts and unwavering attention-to-detail.

This back-to-basics approach results in a timeless classics collection for successful and sharp professionals.

Feraud Fall/Winter Collection 2012/13 is available at all Outfitters Studio and leading department stores in Malaysia.

Shirts, knitted tops, trousers and blazers are priced from RM129.90 to RM799.90.

Accessories such as belts, ties and other premium items are priced from RM89.90 to RM299.90.

Looking sharp: Feraud has the essential wardrobe for the corporate professional.

Trendy: An interesting interpretation of colour-blocking, in Feraud's latest collection.

Keeping it simple: An ensemble of short-sleeved check shirt and pants for a smart evening out.

Cool officewear: Take the tie off and you are ready for an evening out.
