Carrera Rush

↓ The Carrera Panamericana races did not just inspire TAG Heuer and Porsche, it also inspired Wilhelm Anger who created eyewear brand Carrera. And with the recent release of the movie Rush, the brand highlights its most popular period, when it was used by F1 aces Niki Lauda and James Hunt.

Montblanc's StarWalker Ultimate Carbon

↓ This writing instrument features a grey carbon fibre cap and barrel decorated with a subtle geometric pattern, a statement of ingenious and ergonomic design. The pen's fittings are ruthenium-plated, a very rare transition metal of the platinum group.

Jeep Spirit Collection

↓ Themed 'Rugged Nomad', the new Jeep collection is designed for both adventure seekers and urbanites who aspire to see more of the world through travelling. Jeep wants to encourage travellers to explore the world with an open mind and heart so that they can embrace new cultures and learn from new experiences.

Pioneer DEH

↓ The first of no doubt many truly smartphone compatible entry-level CD Receivers from Pioneer, the models in this range emphasise connectivity. Via cable or Bluetooth, or even USB direct control, the single DIN units aim to make your phone the hub of entertainment.

The Police Collection

↑ New designs from Police will not be rocking the world of purists anytime soon. The brand has stuck to its tried and proven masculine and strongly themed aesthetics. New to this collection is the comeback of the blue tinted lens which contributed to the brand's early success.

Jim Clark bag

A useful holdall in the colours – and correct number 8 – of Jim Clark's Lotus 25, in which he bossed the '63 F1 season, winning seven out of 10 races to take the championship. It's handmade from 120 pieces from 26 suppliers. Other styles and bespoke designs are available. £460; caracalla1947.com
